Washington, Ind., was a guest of her father in this city Sunday. Inquisitiveness the Chief American Trait.

Holden, of Fort Madison, Ia., is a guest of Mrs. J. L. McCain....Miss Jackson, of Max O'Rell, in North American Review. I have said that inquisitiveness was the chief American trait, and that it arose from the childish character of a man who belongs to a great, successful, but young nation. Are there not other traits, more or less typical of American manners, arising from the same cause? I believe there are. Generosity, impulsiveness, forgiveness, and-excuse the word-cheek are among them. The American runs wildly after the dollar, but he is lavish of it, he does not love it; he likes it for what it procures; and avarice, which you so commonly find in England in France, is a vice - an ngly vice—that you very seldom find in an American. He will resent an insult, but very quickly forgets it; and there is no man in the world that can stand good-humored chaffing as well as he does. He is audacious, simply because he has done such marvelous things in such a short time that he simply believes nothing is impossible to him. His ideas are eccentric, but eccentricity is only an exaggerated form of the activity of mind. He lives on a continent so vast that he can hardly see a limit to it. He has the word "big" carved on the cranium, and is it a wonder that sometimes the word is so deeply carved that it makes a hole or a crack in it. I repeat it. I have never discovered the typical American, although I have discovered traits that are characteristic of most Americans; and as for American gentlemen, I have never been able to distinguish them from English or French gentlemen. The aristocracy of nature is universal.

A School-Boy's Prize Composition.

At a recent school exhibition over in read a composition entitled "Breathing." Breath is made of air. We breathe with our lungs, our lights, our liver and our kidneys. If it wasn't for our breath we would die when we slept. Our breath keeps the life going through the nose when we are asleep. Boys that stay in a room all day should not breathe. They should wait till they get out doors. Boys in a room make bad, unwholesome air. They make carbonicide. Carbonicide is poisoner than mad dogs. A heap of soldiers was in a black hole in India, and a carbonicide got in that there hole and nearly killed every one afore morning. Girls kill the breath with corsets that squeeze the diagram. firls can't holler or run like boys because their diagram is squeezed too much. If I was a girl I had rather be a boy, so I can run, holler, and row and have a great big diagram. The Democratic supervisors this spring had big diagrams, and that's why they run so well.

Advice to a Court. Philadelphia Press.

With reference to its recent decision on the prohibition issue, the United States Supreme Court might profitably act upon the suggestion once given by the late "Sunset" Cox to a misguided colleague: "Reverse yourself and resume your judgment."

CONDITION OF THE MARKETS

May Wheat Touches $1 at Chicago, with Other Deliveries Close Behind.

Remarkably Wild and Exciting Day Among the Speculators-Rapid Fluctuations in Corn and Oats, with Both Closing Higher.

MONEY, STOCKS AND BONDS. Slight Changes in a Few Shares-The Grangers Heavy, and a Few Others Strong. NEW YORK, May 3.-Money on call was easy, with no loans, closing offered at 3 per Prime mercantile paper 5@7 per cent. Sterling Exchange quiet but steady at $4.84 for sixty-day bills and $4.86 for de-

The total sales of stocks to-day were 143,-319 shares, including the following: Atchison, 13,345; Canada Southern, 3,775; Louisville & Nashville, 3,100; Missouri Pacific, 7,800; Northern Pacific, 2,415; Oregon Transcontinental, 12,860; Richmond & West Point, 11,745; St. Paul, 14,840; Union Pacific, 5,950.

The stock market was quiet to-day, in comparison with the large business transacted of late, and it remained feverish still, with no marked changes, except in a few shares, which were affected by influences peculiar to themselves. The heaviness was most marked in the granger stocks, while Lackawanna, Oregon Trans-continental, Manhattan, and Wheeling & Lake Erie, both preferred and common, were strong. The trading to-day was principally of a professional character, though there was some trading for foreign account, but the principal pressure was from Chicago and the trading element, while there was a good demand for specialties. There is a feeling of disappointment in the street over news from Chicago about the present condition of the Osborne and wife, of Rockville, railroad war. There is nothing to show that the first settlement contemplated is Corn-Dale....Mrs. W. H. Judson is visiting intended to cover anything but passenher son, W. A. Judson and family, in Sey- | ger business, while the war of freights, which represents the most important part of the railroad's earnings, is likely to continue. The market was up and down within narrow limits, with no movement at all worthy of note in the general list, and only in a few specialties was there anything like life. Oregon Improvement, the Chicago, St. Louis & Pittsburg stocks and one or two others made sharp upward spurts, but these constituted the only features of the trading. There was a better tone developed toward the close, caused by the scarcity of stocks being of fered, and the close was fairly active and firm at insignificant changes for the day. St. Paul, Atchison, Oregon Transcontinental and Richmond & West Point were the live stocks.

Railroad bonds were quiet to-day, sales for the session being $1,007,000, with Texas Pacific seconds and Atchison incomes the leading active features. The tone of the dealings was still firm to strong, but as usual of late the important changes were few in number. Northwest rose to 124; Missouri fives, 4, to 100. The sales of bonds for the week aggregated $14,432,000, against $11,419,000 for the last week. Government bonds were dull and steady

TRADING AT CHICAGO.

Exciting Advance in Wheat-May Touches Dollar-Corn and Oats Active and Higher.

CHICAGO, May 3.-There was an immense trade to-day in wheat, and the market was an unusually wild one, prices varying so rapidly that jumps of 12 to 1 cent were made in May and June and 4 to 12 cent in July without a trade. Excitement was at fever heat, and so anxious were buyers at times that offers of 14 to 12 cent above what previous sales were made were readily accepted. Buyers fairly jumped for the wheat. At times the market was bare of offerings for May and June, and the sharp advance in prices in these deliveries carried up the more deferred futures, but the advance was not so marked as in the nearer futures. May opened 11gc higher and sold up 60 more, reaching $1, then eased off and closed at 512c higher than yesterday. Up to noon prices ranged from 94 to 98c and then jumped to 99c and to $1 very quickly. June advanced 614c and closed at 412c higher than yesterday. July was very erratic and opened from 12 to 1c higher than yesterday's closing, advanced very irregularly 3@312c more and closed 3c higher than yesterday. Orders came pouring in from all quarters, the majority to buy, though a good many selling orders were received from parties who, having profits in their favor, were disposed to realize. Parties who had sold yesterday in the expectation of a lower market on prospects of rain covered freely to-day. Trading was general, and individuality was almost lost in the shuffle. A prominent trader was reported as having bought freely, and there were some parties who thought it was "short" wheat. There was nothing new in the situation, the excitement and nervousness being attributed to the continued dry weather in the North-west and bad crop news. Although cloudy weather was reported in the Northwest, scarcely any rain has fallen, with the exception of a slight shower at Duluth and St. Paul. Advices from South Dakota report the ground dry as powder and high winds blowing seed out of the ground. Several dispatches of this tenor were received from the Northwest. To offset these advices, however, a harvester company claimed that if rain came within a week or ten days the crop would be all right. The acreage in the Northwest. while smaller in some sections, is larger in others, and may, on the whole, be as large as last year. There was another day of activity witnessed in corn, the feeling being nervous and unsettled, prices fluctuating simply within 5800 4c range. The trade was mainly in July, though there was more doing in August and September than on yesterday. Business was in the main local, there being less doing on outside account than noted yesterday. There were frantic sellers of July at Se around the opening, and the market bung around 3434@35c. afterwards declining to 3412c, up to 3514 to 3434@347sc, and final quotations on all futures were 4c higher than yesterday. Stronger cables and the advance in wheat were the leading factors. Oats were active but unsettled, prices fluctuating freely, within a range of 7sc. The continued reports of dry weather in the Northwest made operators nervous, and although no actual damage has resulted, "shorts" were anxious to cover and bought freely. Opening sales were at the same, to a slight decline from yesterday's close. Offerings were light and the demand good both from local and outsiders and prices advanced 12 2 78c. May sold to 2618c and a round lot of 200,000 bu brought 2618@2614c at private sale. The advance induced free selling by longs, and as a good many of the early buyers had been filled up, prices receded 58@34c, but again rallied and the market closed steady at a fraction-

few transactions were made later at 10@ 15c advance. Toward the close the feeling was easier and prices slid back again, closing quiet. A fair business was done in lard, but the feeling was unsettled. Prices ruled
.05@.07½c lower and the market closed tame at medium figures. Trading in short tame at medium figures. Trading in short ribs was moderate, with the interest centering in July. Prices declined .05@.0712c and the market closed quiet. The leading futures ranged as follows:

Openi'g. Highest. Lowest. Closing Options. Wheat-May. July.... Corn-May.... Oats-May Pork-May. $13.20 $13.20 $13.10 13.25 13.30 June. 13.35 13.25 13.30 13.35 13.35 13.50 Lard-May 6.3712 6.3712 6.35 6.42¹2 6.47¹2 5.37¹2 5.42¹2 5.47¹2 6.55 5.40 5.47¹2 5.57¹2 Sh'rt ribs-May 5.40 5.4712

Trade Very Satisfactory in Its Volume, with Firm Prices Ruling. INDIANAPOLIS, May 3.

In nearly all departments trade, in the week closing to-day, has been very satisfactory, and with this firm prices have prevailed. The only article on which there was a marked reduction during the week was coffee, package coffees going off 12 cent. Sugars carry a firm, steady tone. Canned goods and dried fruits continue to move out well at unchanged prices. Several descriptions of hog product rule higher than a week ago, and the distribution is large. The hide market is active and prices firm at the recent advance. The wool market is an uncertain one. Just now in the West the bears have the say, notwithstanding the talked-of weak wool market. Dry goods of all descriptions are firm, and many descriptions upward in tendency. In fact, on some lines of cotton goods slight advances in price have been established. The produce markets are active. Old onions are about off the market; new cabbage carries an easier tone: Irish potatoes plenty and cheap; sweet potatoes in light supply and but few are wanted; strawberries are unsettled in price, being governed by receipts and quality, often varying in price $1 a case in a half day. Poultry and eggs both firm at quotations.

Butter easier. The flour market is active.
The mills are running light on account of the light receipts of wheat. Prices on several grades of flour have improved of late.
Other markets are without feature.

There is a brisk demand for all cereals, and on increasing grain receipts the market carries, a strong, healthy tone. Track bids to-day ruled as follows: Wheat-No. 2 red, 94c; No. 3 red, 89c
